

CEiBa - Online course series

Understanding Biodiversity Data.....How, When, And What To Collect, Manage And Analyse

4 - 6 th December, 2020 | 9.30 a.m. – 1.00 p.m.

This 3- day long course is focused on –

- Importance of data collection and management
Basic ideas behind data collection, terminology, modes of collection, sampling events, data formatting and standards, data evaluation, database development and maintenance
- Exploring the sources of biodiversity data
Historical resources, global and national repositories, social-religious practices, PBR, Citizen science
- Application of curated data
Data visualization, analysis, modeling, awareness generation and decision making

Course Structure –

Interactive discussion, Q and A session, case study, DIY session, and assignment

Who can join the course –

- Graduate and Masters students (Botany, Zoology, Ecology, Wildlife and conservation biology, Anthropology, Environmental Science)
- College and University teachers, Researchers, Interested persons with basic knowledge of Biology

Instructor

Dr. Rajasri Ray is working on multiple aspects of ecology, biodiversity and conservation. She has more than 15 years of research experience with several noted publications in national and International journals. Her professional responsibilities include, project guidance for students, interns and summer trainee, act as reviewer for national and international research journals, consultancy work etc. She is also the editor of CEiBa Newsletter (a tri-monthly publication from CEiBa).

Study material and e-certificate will be provided

Course fee – Rs. 800/-

Contact : contact@ceibatrust.org / ceiba.research@gmail.com
Ph. 9480610819 / 9433849341

Click to register